HASKELL FIRES OPENING GUN

SYNOPSIS OF HIS ADDRESS DELIVERED AT ADA SATURDAY AFTERNOON.

Saturday afternoon, when several hundred citizens gathered around the improvised platform in front of the city hall to hear ex-Gov. Haskell deliver the opening address of his campaign for the United States senate, the speaker was introduced by Robert Wimbish, who referred to him as "the white plumed knight of Oklahoma politics." After expressing his satisfaction at having so large an audience, and thanking the band boys of Roff for their work, he compared his audience to a jury and said he was willing to submit his case, to results of the past year, and in this took up the records made by the Democratic party during its sixty years of power, beginning with the administration of Jefferson, and that made by the Republicans during the fifty years of their power. "You judge a tree by the fruit it produces," said he, "you judge the kind of stock you prefer by the results obtained, and select your seed corn from the results of the past year, and in this country between Democracy and Republicanism by the results." Government, he said, was under Washington and Adams almost non-partisan, but since then changing conditions has made of necessity a government by party, and it is now up to the people to judge the two by the results of their almost equal tenure of power. The Republicans have had over fifty years in which to test their theories, and as a result the wealth of the country is in the hands of a very few, and the government conducted in their interest. At the close of the sixty-year period of Democratic rule, 190 people out of every 1,000 owned half of the wealth of the nation, while the other half was owned by the other 810. As a result of a half-century of Republican rule, one-tenth of one per cent owns half, while the other half is divided up among the great majority remaining. During that period the word "trust," as used today, was absolutely unknown while today the villain of every work of fiction is the trust magnate.

He declared that what he wanted to see is the defects remedied, and not the government destroyed. He stated that the Socialist party is a result of Republican mis-rule, the party being a protest against the injustice of Republican rule. He advised the Socialists, however, to return to the Democratic party, which offers the only chance of a genuine reform.

The speaker then took up his record as governor and he gave about the same review of it that he gave here on the occasion of his previous visits. He spoke of taking the lead in the successful effort to unseat Standard Oil delegates of Pennsylvania in the Denver convention, saying that he did not think Standard Oil had any place in a Democratic convention. The governor declared himself to be a progressive Democrat, which, he said, means nothing more than getting back to the principles laid down by Jefferson. He was proud of having been one of 100 progressive Democrats who created the Constitution of the State, an instrument which Prof. Hart, of Harvard denies is revolutionary, but which was five years ahead of the nation when promulgated, and which Ambassador Bryce, of Great Britain has commented on most favorably.

When he spoke of Roosevelt's latest break in making his race with the Oklahoma constitution as his platform several laughs were heard from the crowd. He begged that no one sneer at Teddy, saying that if he were elected to the presidency, it would be his policy to give him all the help possible, but that if Teddy should act bad, he would spank him every day until he became good, just as he would a stubborn boy.

He next turned his attention to the newspapers, saying that only seven of the big newspapers of the United States are owned by their editors, the others being dominated by the trusts, and 17 magazines owned by the steel trust. These papers and magazines exert a powerful influence over the public, and by vilifying honest public officials and praising tools of their owners, these sheets have driven many an honest man into retirement. He himself has been a target for the attacks of these trust-controlled papers ever since he took the governor's chair and insisted that the corporations bear their share of the burdens of taxation. For instance, the Santa Fe railroad had never been taxed more than $3,100 per mile during the Republican regime of territorial days, and naturally when he insisted on taxing it $34,000, a howl went up that has echoed ever since, and if he goes to the senate, the people will know whether he is doing his duty or not by the noise these papers make about him, for if he gets there, he is certain to get on some of their toes, and a howl is sure to follow.

High Taxes.

He next took up the subject of taxation. When the Constitutional convention was in session he managed to put through a section limiting the tax rates. At once a yelp went up from the Republican press that with such a low maximum no branch of the government could run, nor could the schools be conducted with any efficiency. When the convention recessed for a month and the delegates went home, the Republicans had already made such an impression that when the convention met again, it raised the figures, although he opposed it, but that the legislature was given power to deal with the matter in the future. He had to make the fight through three sessions before he got the limit to its present level. Although a young state, Oklahoma state government is run for only 67 per cent of what it costs to run that of Kansas. In his own administration Oklahoma was able to get along on 52 per cent of what it cost Kansas, but he wanted it distinctly understood that he was not criticising Cruce, for the latter had 300 more convicts and 400 more insane to look after than he had, besides other items of necessary increase. The deficiency in the revenue during his administration was caused by the fact that most of the big corporations went into federal courts and enjoined the collection of their taxes. Although Judge Hook thought $34,000 was too high an assessment for the Santa Fe, thought the road should be permitted to make dividends on $64,000 per mile. He admitted that he might have made good the deficiency by raising other taxes, but he did not consider that just, if it could be avoided. He said no blame could be attached to Gov. Cruce for most of the increase in local taxes, because an examination of a tax receipt would show that the state receives only a very small part of it, most of the levy being voted by the people themselves for public improvements of various kinds.

The Educational System.

He took a strong position against the Aiken bill, saying that he believed in a distribution of secondary schools that will aid the masses and not so much the classes. Schools like the Ada Normal and agricultural colleges are within the reach of thousands, whereas, the university is within the reach of hundreds only. Furthermore, he believed in educating the clerk, the mechanic and the farmer, rather than turning out more lawyers and doctors.

Election of Federal Judges.

He touched briefly on the subject of federal judges, expressing a belief that it will not be long until they are elected by the people instead of being appointed through railroad influence.

Columbia Bank Case.

He called attention to the numerous attacks made on him as a result of the Columbia Bank failure. Frank Greer and other Republican editors had, day after day, demanded through their papers that he submit a report. As a matter of fact, he had made such a report, and it had been published in their own papers already. When a friend of Greer's had called his attention to this fact, Greer admitted that he had not forgotten it, but that the people had and he was going to use it. The governor had spent many sleepless nights on account of the bank in his anxiety to save the situation as much as possible. Although a federal court attempted to enjoin him, he had gone on and paid every depositor as his claim was presented. The banking law was the best in the United States and had stood the test. In view of the fact that at least 50 banks would have failed when the Columbia went down but for his vigilance and his refusal to obey the federal court injunction, he considered that the law had made good, in that it saved the state a panic that would have cost it millions.

Owen's Record.

He next devoted some attention to the record of Owen in the senate. He doubted the sincerity of the senator when he claimed to favor the election of senators by direct vote, because soon after becoming governor, Haskell had written to every secretary of state of every state in the Union to know what had been done in the way of seeking to bring this about. Twenty-six states had passed resolutions demanding an amendment to that effect, and Oklahoma was the 27th. He had prepared a pamphlet embracing the results of his investigation which was sent to Senator Owen to be put before the senate. Owen was too cautious to introduce as a measure of his own, but presented it as a memorial of Haskell's.

He declared that Owen is not a Democrat. He produced a copy of the New York American in which a description was given of a banquet by the Independence League, Hearst's party, at which Owen had declared that he favored practically everything in its platform. He declared that Owen had shown the white feather in 1910 when the grandfather clause was adopted.

Although a grave danger confronted the state from the rapid colonization of negroes from other states, and Haskell, Branson and other leaders were hard at work trying to get a sufficient number of signatures to initiate the bill in time, Owen refused either to make a speech himself or contribute anything to the cause.

Haskell said that within an hour after the bill had passed, he was approached by the Republican state chairman who offered that if Haskell would veto the legislation, the indictments in the town lot cases would be dismissed, and that furthermore they would be dismissed immediately. He produced written statements to that effect as a guarantee that he could deliver the goods. The governor informed him that he expected to sign the bill within an hour and would take care of the town lot cases when they were called for trial.

The governor also criticised Owen severely because of the part he played in the passage of the bill providing for the purity of the elections. Owen had insisted that candidates for the senate be permitted to spend as much as $10,000 if necessary, and the bill itself was only a cowardly makeshift, designed to catch the ear and deceive the people.

He also criticised his opponent because he said he claimed the credit for the passage of the banking law. However, the measure was a law a month before the senator says he delivered an address before the legislature which turned the tide in its favor.

Magnificent Display.

Every one turns out to see a circus parade, and the crowds that gather to watch the grand spectacular parade given by the Campbell Bros. Big Consolidated Shows when they exhibit in Ada on Saturday, April 13, 1912, will witness one that is unequalled anywhere today.

Horses are always a leading feature with every circus, and Campbell Brothers have spent years in raising and training their hundreds and hundreds of fine horses that are exhibited both in the free street parade, and the various ways under the big top.

The horse are attractive, but we must not fail to mention the riders scores and scores of really beautiful women, gaily and magnificently costumed and all exhibiting different feats of horsemanship and daring. Then, there are the almost ungovernable horses and bronchos that are mounted by cowboys, and the troop of Russian cossacks, whose services Campbell Brothers have secured direct from the steppes of Russia, at enormous expense, and who are famous the world over for performing the most wonderful and reckless feats on horseback with their horses going at full speed. Don't fail to see them; also many other features too numerous to mention that are always a part of every circus, as groups of beautiful women posed as various characters on the huge glittering wagons, bands of music and clowns, to say nothing of the valuable menagerie that is carried with these shows.

TOM HARRELL ELECTED STATE CHAIRMAN

Oklahoma City, April 8.—Tom C. Harrell, of Wagoner, was unanimously elected State Democratic chairman to fill the unexpired term caused by the resignation of Fred P. Branson, of Muskogee, who is a candidate for congressmen-at-large.

Up to the voting the contest was bitterly waged, with the State Administration forces backing Harrell, and others led by William H. Murray of Tishomingo supporting D. H. Linebaugh, of Atoka. Harrell is a member of the State Committee, while Linebaugh is not.

Some weeks ago former Governor, C. N. Haskell, came to Oklahoma City to oppose Harrell's election owing to Harrell espousing the cause of Robert L. Owen for the United States senate against Haskell. Haskell was quoted as favoring Col. Roy Hoffman, of Chandler, or Boone Williams, of Lehigh, who is vice chairman of the committee, but was willing to the election of practically any one save the Wagoner candidate.

Sharply drawing the fight between Harrell and Linebaugh had the effect of quieting the Haskell forces some days ago, but it was claimed Saturday that an effort would be made to thwart both Murray and the Administration by either leaving Williams in charge of the committee as vice chairman or the election of a new candidate. Some of the Linebaugh people claimed to have information that their alignment was to be used to that end.

The initial test came on a resolution proposing that the chairmanship should not go to a man who was not a member of the State Committee, which was adopted by a vote of 40 to 33, giving the proposition a majority and eliminated Linebaugh as a candidate. As soon as Mr. Harrell was nominated Murray proposed to make it unanimous, and this prevailed.

The Administration forces are jubilant and said that the resolution vote did not reveal their strength, since they had several to spare. All counties were represented, exactly one-half of them by proxies.

Tom Harrell was first identified with the Democratic organization in Indian Territory sixteen years ago, and was a member of the Democratic Executive Committee in the first State election. He was a candidate for member of the Constitutional convention against Jim Harris, of Wagoner, now chairman of the Republican State Committee, and was defeated on the face of the returns by 32 votes. Harrell contested, showing 68 majority, but was not seated by the convention.

PITT-DONAGHEY

At 10 o'clock Sunday morning Mr. Wm. E. Pitt and Miss Minnie Lee Donaghey were united in marriage at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Donaghey, Rev. A. M. Dupree officiating. The wedding was a very quiet affair, only the near relatives and a few friends being present.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the guests appropriated most of the lovely flowers of the bride's bouquet as souvenirs of the occasion. The bouquet was indeed a triumph of the florist's art, and was composed of white Colonna roses, lilies of the valley entwined with plumosis.

The bride has grown to young womanhood in Ada, and has always stood high in the estimation of her large circle of friends, who valued her for her many admirable traits of character. Her leaving Ada is a source of deep regret, but the groom must be congratulated on his extreme good fortune.

The groom is head florist in the Texas Seed and Floral company's large establishment at Dallas, and has the reputation of being a most excellent young man in every particular, and one worthy of the prize he has captured.

POLICEMAN HARRIS HANDY WITH GUN

Saturday night Charley Braddy had a close call from being seriously shot by Policeman Harris. It is said that while Policeman Bennett was attempting to quiet a disturbance being made by J. W. Bolen, Braddy interfered and Policeman Harris coming up at that instant fired at him, the bullet burning a streak across his abdomen and passing through the trouser leg of Walter Daggs, who happened to be near. Both Braddy and Bolen gave cash bonds for their appearance in police court.

Healthy Mothers

Women who bear children and remain healthy are those who prepare their systems in advance of baby's coming. Unless the mother aids nature in its pre-natal work the crisis finds her system unequal to the demands made upon it, and she is often left with weakened health or chronic ailments. No remedy is so truly a help to nature as Mother's Friend, and no expectant mother should fail to use it. It relieves the pain and discomfort caused by the strain on the ligaments, makes pliant and elastic those fibres and muscles which nature is expanding, prevents numbness of limbs, and soothes the inflammation of breast glands. The system being thus prepared by Mother's Friend dispels the fear that the crisis may not be safely met. Mother's Friend assures a speedy and complete recovery for the mother, and she is left a healthy woman to enjoy the rearing of her child.

Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers which contains much valuable information, and many suggestions of a helpful nature. BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

FRANK SMITH TO QUIT

"Piano Mover," Noted Pitcher, Eyes Restaurant.

Former Chicago White Sox Player Satisfied With Cincinnati Contract Loses Heart to Pittsburgh Cafe.

Frank Smith, the piano mover, former pitcher of the Chicago White Sox, has arrived home from a trip to Europe and says he probably will quit baseball for good to embark in the restaurant business. Smith has been dickering for a cafe in Pittsburgh and if he lands it says it is an avowal to the dear old game for all time, so far as he is concerned.

The Cincinnati club has returned Smith's contract for his signature, having accepted the big pitcher's terms. Smith says he intends to quit while his services are sought instead of waiting until he is kicked out. He believes, however, he could go along for a year or so longer for the Cincinnati team and that he would pitch good ball. The strenuous life of the diamond has lost its charm for the hefty piano mover, to hear him talk, and he longs for the quiet and independence of business life.

"Now, this is none of your holdout yarns, for this very day I received a contract from the Cincinnati club, which accepted my terms. This was the second contract I received from the club. The first one did not suit me and I returned it and told what I wanted. Today I got the document calling for my terms. But I will not return it until I find out where I can land the place of business I am seeking. And I want to tell you that conducting a cafe will be much easier than standing out there in the hot sun trying to foil hitters."

Frank Smith was one of the oldest members of the White Sox squad when he was traded to the Boston Red Sox in 1910 along with Billy Purcell for Harry Lord and Ambrose McConnell. That trade became famous in baseball history for its one-sidedness. Neither Smith nor Purcell was of any value to Boston, while Harry Lord is considered one of the greatest players in baseball, and McConnell would be nothing less than a wonder had he not met with misfortune in crippling him up.

Smith did valiant service for the White Sox in 1906, when he helped win the pennant in the American league. Like Joe McGinnity of the New York Giants at that time, Smith was considered an iron man. He could pitch every other day if necessary. With all his faults Smith had many friends among White Sox fans, who have a big place in their affections for the big fellow who at one time was one of their heroes.

O'Day Lauds Emslie.

Veteran Umpire Bob Emslie, according to "Hank" O'Day, manager of the Cincinnati Reds, will be just as good a man behind the mask this year as any major league umpire. O'Day has worked with Emslie a great deal and is much amused over the reports that Emslie's eyes are bad and he may be pensioned by the National league.

"Say for me," said O'Day, "that when a man can shoot bluebirds like Bob he can umpire any game of baseball scheduled. I found him in Toronto recently wearing a diamond badge he had won in a shoot, as high gun. I saw him kill forty out of forty-five birds. This criticism of Emslie is on a par with a lot of stuff that I have had to stand during my long career as an umpire."

Hard Training Trip for Athletics. Connie Mack plans the most strenuous training trip of his career for the world's champions next spring. The Athletics will condition themselves at San Antonio, Tex., which, like Marlin, is a bath city. Mack will follow the policy of McGraw of the Giants. He will take his youngsters south about Feb. 20. The veterans will report on March 1.

Saginaw Leads in Attendance. Saginaw led the South Michigan league in attendance last season, with Lansing second and Kalamazoo third.

EAST CENTRAL NORMAL 7, SCHOOL FOR DEAF 1

E. C. S. N. 7; Oklahoma School for the Deaf 1. This in short tells for game on the Normal diamond Saturday. Time after time after the first part of the game the dummies had several men on the bases, but Par Jones always was able to meet the emergency and so puzzled the mutes by his mysterious slants and curves that they fanned the air instead of swatting the ball. The Ada boys simply outclassed the other fellows on the field, the honors so far were about evenly divided.

The game was called exactly at 3 p. m., Ada taking the field. Sulphur singled, but was unable to score. For Ada McCain singled. Roddie advanced him and he himself was safe on a bunt. McMillan sacrificed. Gulks struck out. McCain scored on a wild throw to third. McDaniel out second to first. This performance was almost repeated during the next inning, Buttram scoring for Ada.

During the third inning Sulphur managed to put one man across the plate with two hits and a sacrifice.

The fourth inning came very near being a fatal one for Ada. The first dummy singled. A high fly was then knocked to shallow center field. McCain and Roddie both went after it. Some one called for Roddie to get it, but McCain did not hear. The clash was sudden and severe, both being disabled for an instant. This left two men on the bases with none down. Again Par was equal to the occasion, and by the help of McMillan on third and Houpt on second, no runs were made.

The sixth indeed was Sulphur's catastrophe. By using a few bunts, squeeze plays and fade-away slides, that Ada boys threw the dummies into such confusion that before they again could get their heads level Ada had added five more runs to its list.

The game was called before the seventh inning was complete as rain began to fall in torrents.

FRISCO CUTS TRAIN SERVICE

Will Discontinue Muskogee Train and Hustler After Tomorrow.

Agent McNair has been notified by the head officials of the Frisco that after tomorrow (April 10), both the Hustler and the Muskogee train will be discontinued. No explanation is given or reason assigned for thus reducing the service, but it is presumably because the road is not satisfied with the returns.

Later—it is learned that the Hustler is already off and will not be run tonight.

FOR A GOOD ROADS DISTRICT

Farmers and Business Men Agree on Election for Bond Issue of $175,000.

Saturday a number of influential farmers met with some of the business men of the city and the matter of good roads was thoroughly discussed, and for the first time since the question of roads has been under discussion, definite action was taken. All but one of those present was strongly in favor of beginning immediately to push the plan, and agreed not only to circulate petitions themselves in their respective communities, but also to try to get others to help also. These petitions will be prepared by Saturday and circulated immediately.

The proposed road district will embrace an area of about sixteen miles north and south and fourteen miles east and west with Ada in the center. The plan is to vote $175,000 in bonds and apply it to building good and durable roads. If the proposition carries, the money will be ready by the time the crops are laid by, thus providing work for the farmers at a time when they need it worst.

MISS GARRISON ENTER-TAINS THE T. K. K.'S

Miss Octo Garrison was hostess to the T. K. K.'s Saturday evening at the home of her sister, Mrs. W. K. Chaney.

Hyacinths perfumed the entire house. The dining-room table was decorated with an easter nest filled with eggs, rabbits, and chickens. The first thing we noticed were strings, twisted and twined and turned in every direction and part of the house. But we could get no answers to our numerous questions until the young men arrived. Then the guests were divided into couples, and were told to unwind those strings to see which would finish first. All of the strings started at the lights in the dining-room and had a chicken and a rabbit at the beginning, and two easter eggs at the end.

Miss Estelle Torbett and Mr. Sugg finished first and had to unwind another string, at the end of which they found a large Easter egg filled with chocolates.

Next, the old, old game of our nursery days was enjoyed, "Clap in and Clap Out." First the girls were clapped in and out; then the men. After all the men had located the right seat, each couple took a promenade around the block.

Delightful music was furnished by Misses Moss Wingo, Ruth Sowers and Alleyne Shands.

The refreshments of cream and cake were delicious, but most pleasing of all was the unique manner in which they were served. The cream formed the most charming Easter bunnies. Needless to say, the occasion afforded each guest a delightful time.

The following were present: Misses Wingo, Sowers, Ross, Torbett, Sledge, Shands, Brown and Tolbert. Messrs. Reed, Nesbitt, Haraway, Blank, Sweatt, Bobbitt, Thompson, Sugg, Cooper and Cole.

BEAUTIFYING THE HOME WITH PAINTS AND FINISHES

It is really remarkable what transformations may be made now-a-days with paints and finishes. The Ramsey Drug Co. is showing this week in the center of their window a beautifully finished panel showing results that can be secured by any one who can be easily secured by any one over old painted surfaces or on old bare wood. It is one of the handsomest and most practical displays we have seen and reflects great credit both to the Ramsey Drug Co. and to Acme Quality Paints and Finishes.

The extensive newspaper advertising being done by the Ramsey Drug Co. in behalf of Acme Quality goods is producing excellent results.

"Once you try our products you will always use them. They are genuine and pure. Athletic Tea Co., 121 E. Main, between the picture shows, Phone 140. Look for our wagon. 302-10teod

MEN ARE HELPLESS AS CHILDREN

When Taken Suddenly Ill—Here Is a Common-Sense Safeguard.

Big, strong man is a helpless infant when he is suddenly ill. The sturdiest chap in town usually loses his self-control, and is utterly unable to regard his condition with the common sense that characterizes his every-day actions.

For example: He comes home tired, eats a heavy dinner and sits down to read and smoke away a quiet evening.

Suddenly he notices a weight on his stomach; then sharp pains around his heart, and a feeling of suffocation. Thoughts of "heart disease" rush over him, and in his agony he fears the worst.

His trouble was acute indigestion, brought on by over-eating brought on by overloading his tired stomach.

A couple of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets might have given him relief—might have saved him hours of suffering.

Carry a package of Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets in your vest pocket or keep them in your room. Take one after each heavy meal, and ward off indigestion.

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets relieve stomach troubles by aiding nature to supply those elements, the absence of which in the gastric juices, causes indigestion and dyspepsia. They tend to aid the stomach to digest all kinds of food and to quickly convert into rich red blood.

We know what Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets are and what they will do. We guarantee them to relieve indigestion and dyspepsia. If they fail, we will refund your money.

Three sizes, 25 cents, 50 cents and $1.00. Sold only at our stores or by mail. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—The Rexall Store Gwin & Mays Drug Co.

FARE TO MACON AND RETURN $19.45

Oklahoma City, April 8.—D. M. Halley, commander of the Oklahoma division, United Confederate Veterans, and R. B. Coleman, adjutant general and chief of staff, were in Oklahoma City Saturday to hold a general conference with Rock Island and Frisco passengers officials at the Rock Island division office, where all arrangements for conveying the Oklahoma veterans to Macon were completed.

Commander Halley estimates that there will be three hundred Confederate Veterans make the trip from Oklahoma on the official train, which will leave the Rock Island passenger station at Oklahoma City at 5:10 p. m. Saturday, May 4, arriving at Macon in plenty of time for the opening of the reunion Monday, May 6. All roads in the state have arranged to consolidate their reunion traffic at Oklahoma City and other junction points between here and the Arkansas line.

The round trip fare from Oklahoma City will be $12.50 and the fare from all Oklahoma points will be in proportion. This is regarded as the most satisfactory and economical arrangement the Oklahoma Veterans have ever made to attend a reunion.

Commander Halley and Adjutant Coleman issued the following order to the United Confederate Veterans of Oklahoma:

"My Comrades of the Oklahoma Division: Referring to and cancelling my order of March 1, and supplement order No. 14, March 18, relative to railroad fares and routes from different points in Oklahoma to Macon, Ga., on account of the reunion of the United Confederate Veterans, I desire to make the following changes in rates:

"Vinita, 22.80; Shawnee, $20.95; Ada, $19.45; Coalgate, $16.20; Tulsa, $22.80; Guthrie, $23.80; Ardmore, $19.65.

"I have also decided, on account of the convenience of through service, on special train, to announce as the official route the C. R. I. & P. railway to Memphis, Frisco to Birmingham, and Southern railway to Macon, Ga. This train will leave Oklahoma Saturday, May 4th. The Rock Island and Frisco have arranged to operate special train to consist of standard Pullman sleeping cars, tourist Pullman sleeping cars, chair cars and high back coaches. To make this special train a success I desire that all comrades and their friends take advantage of the special train as early as possible, considering their own convenience. Those not living directly on the Rock Island or the Frisco lines, can purchase through tickets from their station, having same route via the nearest junction point on the Rock Island or Frisco and join special train at that place.

"In the near future a circular will be forwarded to you announcing Pullman rates in both standard and tourist sleepers from different points in Oklahoma, as well as schedule of special train, showing leaving time from all points, with railroad fares.

"If you desire Pullman reservation or further information relative to this trip, write C. O. Jackson, D. P. A., Frisco lines, or Fay Thompson, D. P. A., Rock Island lines, Oklahoma City."

DISTINCT VALUE OF PICTURES

Care in Selection and Hanging Will Be Well Repaid in Increased Pleasure Afforded.

"A room hung with pictures is a room hung with beautiful thoughts." How many of us give the right amount of careful thought in hanging pictures on our walls? Do we ever think of the pleasure and effect on ourselves of the paintings or prints that are constantly before our eyes?

"That chromo makes me wild," says one protesting aesthetic woman, as she gazes on a relic of the barbarous age in art. It is a vividly colored print of a very old and very ugly Juliet leaning over the balcony in the arms of a Romeo who would not take a prize for anything except climbing up a vine. The walnut frame is old and matches the execrable "whatnot" of our mothers' time. The whole thing is unpleasant, badly drawn, badly colored and absolutely out of place, and yet it hangs on, simply because some dead aunt saw fit to give it at an anniversary!

Pictures should please. They should educate and elevate. They should be of the good painters. How rich is the treasure from which we can choose! How wonderful are the modern reproductions at ridiculously little cost!

Begin now to tear down the meaningless prints that speak nothing to you. Hang upon your walls just a few beautiful pictures that will have just as much effect, psychologically, on your nerves, your mind, your soul, as the companions of your hours.

PHILOSOPHIC TURN OF MIND

Not Many Would Have Described Misadventure in the Terms This Boy Used.

As Miss Easton got into the elevator at a certain big school house the other morning she saw a boy, whom she was sure was one of "her boys," standing in a corner. He had a pair of crutches on which he leaned heavily, and Miss Easton, who knew she had seen him sound and well only the day before in one of her classes, exclaimed in amazement:

"Well, well, what on earth are you doing with crutches?"

"I met with a slight accident a few months ago," replied the boy in a voice she did not recognize, and as the elevator stopped at that moment he lifted his hat clumsily and got off. Then she saw that one of his legs was gone and that he was not one of her boys.

"The 'slight accident,'" explained the elevator man to the perturbed teacher, "was being run over by a train, having one of his legs cut off, his skull fractured and his right hand badly mashed!"—New York Press.

Unearned Praise.

He was only a poor little messenger boy.

When the young woman stepped into the elevator on the first floor of the Williamson building it was crowded with big men—and that messenger boy. In an instant the boy snatched his hat from his head.

One by one, but with shamed blushes, the men in the elevator followed suit. The young woman was not handsome, but she was neat and trim and self-possessed. Quickly she turned to the lad and said:

"You are a little gentleman—one of the old-fashioned sort!" and she flashed a wonderfully sweet smile upon him.

The child looked at her in amazement. He had been fumbling with his cap, but now he found the message he had stuck in his sweatband, took it out, stuck his cap on his head and began to whistle.

Ants Eat Through Lead Cables.

White ants are causing much trouble in South Australia in telephone cables and also in the underground electric light lines. On the lead sheathed telephone cables crosses between the circuits began to occur. Upon withdrawing some of this cable from the ducts it was found that the ants had eaten through the lead in many places. On the Sidney system of electric lighting the ants ate through the bitumen compound and then through the lead and high tension insulation next to the wire. To stop the ravages which will incur an enormous expense if not checked, arsenious oxide mixed with bitumen, a sort of pitch, is being applied to the cables. Carbon bisulphide is also being tried with the idea that the odor will drive the ants away.

Just Occurred to Him.

"It never struck me before," said Mr. Wimpleton, "but Dr. Temple stopped me this morning to tell me what a big, handsome, manly-looking fellow our son had grown to be."

"I don't see how you could help noticing it," his wife replied. "I have been aware of it all the time; but I guess a mother is more likely to look for such things than a father is."

"Oh, I've realized that Will was handsome and manly-looking, all right. You never have been any more proud of him than I have been."

"But you just said it never had struck you before."

"I mean it never struck me before how much he resembles me."

Its Suggestion.

"When I asked our new girl if she could do anything in the line of putting up vegetables she replied, 'I can can.'"

"My dear, that sounds as if she was a French chorus girl."

MEETING OF THE CONFEDERATE VETERANS

The Confederate veterans held a meeting Sunday afternoon and devoted some time to hearing representatives of several railroads tell of the advantages offered by their respective roads for the Macon reunion. The delegates and visitors will go via the Frisco and Rock Island to Memphis and from there have choice of the Southern and N. C. & St. L. roads to Macon.

WHY not give your lad the same training?

"When I was a growing lad, and came upon many words in my reading that I did not understand, my mother, instead of giving me the definition when I applied to her, uniformly sent me to the dictionary to learn it, and in this way I gradually learned many things besides the meaning of the individual word in question—among other things, how to use a dictionary, and the great pleasure and advantage there might be in the use of the dictionary. Afterwards, when I went to the village school, my chief diversion, after lessons were learned and before they were recited, was in turning over the pages of the 'Unabridged' of those days. Now the most modern 'Unabridged—the NEW INTERNATIONAL—gives me a pleasure of the same sort. So far as my knowledge extends, it is at present the best of the one-volume dictionaries, and quite sufficient for all ordinary uses. Even those who possess the splendid dictionaries in several volumes will yet find it a great convenience to have this, which is so compact, so full, and so trustworthy as to leave, in most cases, little to be desired."—Albert S. Cook, Ph.D., LL.D., Professor of the English Language and Literature, Yale Univ. April 28, 1911.
